J. MENKE, Stellvertretender Königlich Preuseischer Consul.

BEKANNTMACHUNG. AUH dem Norddeutschen Bundes-Gesetz vom 25ten October 1867 haben alle Kauffahrteischiffe der Bundesstaaten. also namentlich die Preussens, Mecklenburgs, Oldenburgs und der Städte Bremen, Hamburg und Lübeck vom Iten April 1868 ab als Nationalflagge ausschliesslich die nundesflagge zu führen.

Dieselbe bildet nach der Königlichen im Namen des Bundes erlassenen Verordbung vom 25sten October 1867 ein längliches Rechteck, bestehend aus drei gleichbreiten horizontalen Streifen, von welchen der obere schwarz, der mittlere weiss und der untere roth ist. Das Verhältniss der Höhe der Flagge zur Länge ist wie zwei zu drei. Die Bundesflagge wird von den Schiffen am Heck oder am hinteren Maste-und zwar in der ·Regel an der Gaffel dieses Mastes, in Ermangelung einer solchen aber am Top oder am Want geführt. Ein besonderes Abzeichen m der Bundesflagge oder einen Wimpel zu führen, ähnlich demjenigender Kriegsmarine des Norddeutschen Bundes, ist den Kauffahrteischiffen nicht gestattet. Die Lootsenflagge der Norddeutschen ist die neue Bundesflagge im kleinen Format, rings umgeben von einem weissen Streifen, dessen Breite gleich der der inneren Streifen ist. Die Kauffahrteischiffe haben die Bundesflagge stets zu hissen, sobald sie ein Schiff oder Fahrzeug der Bundeskriegsmarine, eine Festung oder ein Küstenfort passiren. welche ihre Nationalflagge gesetzt haben Dasselbe gilt bei der Begegnung mit Kriegsschiffen befreundeter Mächte auf See. Nach § 18 des Flaggengesetzes genügen die bisher von den einzelnen Landesbehörden ertheilten Certificate auch zur Führung der General & Commission Agents Bundesflagge. Alle nur mit interimietischen Consular-Certificaten versehenen norddeutschen Schiffe haben indessen sofort ihre Eintragung in der Heimath zu bewirken. Koniglich Preussisches General Consulat

J. MENKE, Stellvertreten des Consuls.

BEKANNTMACHUNG. Da nach officiellen Nachrichten in Japan der Krieg zwischen Seiner Majestät dem Mikado und dem Taikuhu ausgebrochen ist, und die Beobachtung strenger Neutralitat dadurch nothwendig wird, so macht der Unterzeichnete Geschäftsträger Seiner Majestat des Königs von Preussen in Japan die preussischen Unterthanen und Schutzgenossen darauf aufmerksam, dass eine Betheiligung an dem Kriege, selbst in der Eigenschaft als Nicht-Combattant, die Zuführung von Kriegs und Transportschiffen, die Zuführung und Beförderung von Militärpersonen, Depeschen und zur Kriegscontrebande gehörigen Gegenständen preussischen Kauffahrteischiffen für irgend einen der beiden Theile nach den Grundsittzen des Volkerrechts eine Verletzung der Neutralität in sich sohliessen und als feindliche geahndet werden können. Die im Militärdienste befindlichen Persouen können daher nach Kriegsgebrauch behandelt werden. während die Schiffe und sonstigen Transportmittel der Wegnahme und Confiscation unterliegen, welche auch auf die Uebrige, etwa vorhandene, Neutralen gehörige Ladung ausgedehnt werden

Jede Verletzung der Neutralität durch preussische Unterthanen und Schiffe würde dieselben ausserdem der Gefahr aussetzen, ihrer Ansprüche auf den Schutz der Königlichen Regierung sowie auf die in dem preussisch-japanischen Vertrage garantirten Rechte und Privilegien verlustig zu gehen. THE S.S. Achilles is reported as having arrived at Singapore on the 20th instant. She will therefore be due here to-morrow.

THE following is the text of the sentence pronounced the the Japanese gentleman who recently put himself in violent collision with Sir Harry Parkes :- "On the 23rd March, as the English Representative was proceeding to the Palace, having previously conspired with your accomplices. you attacked the English soldiers attached to the Representative with a naked sword, and inflicted wounds upon them. By this vou not only caused delay in his attendance at the Palace, but also interfered with His Majesty's Foreign relations. For the heinousness of this outrage you are deprived of your swords, your name is crased from put to death by the sword on the 27th inst. your head will be exposed during the space of three days." The unfortunate man's name was Saegusa Shigoru.

As the Tigre, M. I. Steamer, was entering the harbour this morning she fouled the Dupleix belonging to the same Company and which was anchored in her usualiberth. Both vessels were somewhat injured by the collision, the Time most so, losing a boat and carrying away the starboard quarter rail and stanchions. The Dupleix had her port forecastle rail carried way, and the anchor on that side was dropped by the col-

A fracas took place as the Tigre was coming in between the boarding officer from the Harbour master's department, and quarter master belonging to the vessel. As far as we can ascertain it arose from the former objecting to any one going on board the steamer until she got pratique, bu neither understanding the other's language a difficulty arose. The boarding officer in judiciously attempted to arrest the said quarter-master, but the shipmates of the latter came to his rescue and "demolished" the police: who were lugged on board steamer. It is said that the case will be brought before the police magistrate tomorrow.—Mr Pollard appeared before Mr. May in the afternoon relative to the affair, and protested against the execution of warrants, as the men were outside the Court at the call of the Bench. He would under take, as counsel for the Company, to para le all the men engaged on board at nine o'clock to-morrow morning, so that the constable might pick out the men he wished and those chosen would be brought up to the Court by ten o'clock. This his Worship agreed to, and ten o'clock was fixed for the hearing of the case to-morrow.

Mr Pollard submitted that the prosecution had proved no case whatever; that he had proved the boat to be the property of his client, and that therefore Mr Jarmau and his watchmen were trespassers. His Worship said he would be very sorry to see Mr Jarman in a false position, as he ascertain the truth and the facts of any generally managed to do his business without giving offence to any one. From the defence it was palpably clear that the boat was defendant's property; and that defendant would therefore be discharged.

As to the boat's possession, Mr Pollard observed that he did not suppose Mr Jarman would be fool enough to keep possession of it. If he did, his client (Mr B.) should warn any trespassers out of it, and if they did not go, to put them out, no matter who they were. ...

Inspector Halloran was then called for the defence. He stated that he was on duty on Sunday morning at the Charge Room, when Mr Barnard came, in a very excited state, and called for Mr Creagh The Chinaman (first witness) said that he had been punched with a stick by a constable; and Mr Barnard wished to charge the constable, but he (witness) declined to take the charge, saying that it would be referred to Mr Deane. The Chinaman pointed out first one constable and then the other; defendant stated that Mr Barhard incited the Chinese to obstruct the police in the execution of their duty. Mr Barnard here rose and said that, although he was not in the case, he thought the inspector had no right to remark upon instead of taking the charge as requested he laughed and treated the affair in a very cavalier manner altogether. It was not at all pleasant for him to go and look-after a mail who was being killed, instead of going Mr May observed that, if Mr Barnard was excited, he was excited in a good cause the inspector had better say no more about Mr B.'s appearance; he only wanted the facts of the case.

Cross-examined by Mr Pollard, the spector said that the report produced was the only written report of the matter. (The report simply said that Constables Nattoo and Bux had been charged by a Chinaman with assault, that Nattoo's coat was torn, and that Mr Barnard had been accused by the constables of having incited the mol against the Police.) He had orders never to take or enter a charge against a constable, unless the case had previously been referred to the Superintendent of Police this was the practice followed in London Mr Pollard here expressed his astonish ment, adding that no sergeant would ever dare to refuse to take a charge in London. He did not particularize the defendant because the Chinaman charged first one policeman and then the other. He puts Nattoo's name as the man with torn uni form as a matter of course. A verbal report of the matter was made to Mr Deane.

Mr Pollard ironically remarked that such was evidently not the practice here, in cases where the public were concerned, though it might be so in London. On another witness being called, Pollard asked what he was called for, to which his Worship replied that he supposed

CASE OF CHAIR-SMASHING AND ASSAULT BY SIKH P. C.'s.

P. C. Sikhs Nattoo, Hoosan Bux, and Peer Bux were charged before Mr May this afternoon—the first two for assaulting Mr Pollard's chair coolie, and the first for having smashed the learned counsel's chair. -Mr Pollard appeared to prosecute, and Mr Superintendent Deane watched the case on the prisoner's behalf. In reply to Mr. Pollard (and ere the case commenced), Mr Deane stated that the fine of $5 imposed vesterday would be kept out of the pay of Nattoo, the mulcted Sikh, at so much a month. The learned counsel said that they therefore advanced the Sikh money to pay the fine; this was a new mode of punishment. As for the present charge, Mr Pollard said that the charge with which he had specially to do was that against Peer might impound a chair if it were causing an obstruction; but there was no law under heaven which would justify his smashing it. It would cost him a dollar to mend the cover, and though it were only a cent, he he would have it out of him. -One of Mr Pollard's chair-coolies, having been declared, stated that his master's chair was His Worship observed that it should, of standing close by the Club, when Peer Bux driving a hole through the cover. Barnard, barrister, said that he saw the prisoners illusing a man very like the complainant, on Sunday morning last. Prisoners dragged the Chinaman about fifteen yards, beating and prodding him violently; the coolie was bleeding on nose and forehead, and lying Station in a chair: witness followed and laid a charge. He did not know what the coolie had done; and he only said that this was not the proper way to take any man in custody. He was of opinion that great violence was used, and much more than was necessary. It was impossible that the coolie could have resisted under the power of so strong a man as the constable. Nattuo beat the coolie, while Hoosan Bux dragged him along, Mr Pollard here said a few words on the case, and expressed his opinion that the evidence of one coolie and Mr Barnard was enough to establish the case. While doing so, Mr Deane addressed the Bench in an undertone; and Mr Pollard said that he did not think he ought to be so interbeing said about this case which was not spoken audibly. how those means can best be provided for. In discussing this question, we are fortunately not altogether without guide or precedent, as it happens that the matter has been very wisely legislated for by our American cousins. By Act of Congress (16th July 1798) it is provided inter alia that a deduction of twenty cents a mouth is to be made from seaman's wages to form a fund, out of which the Government of the rary relief and maintenance of sick and disabled seamon in the hospitals in the ports of the United States, and in other places, in such manner as the Government's shall direct. This, we cannot help believ. ing, is precisely what is wanted to enable nu to meet the difficulties now existing. If provision of this nature were introduced into the Merchant Shipping Act, the means would be at the disposal of the Government for providing in places which are extensive enough to warrant such a step, their own mode of affording medical relief. That in a vast number of ports an enormous saving both to the shipowners and also to the Government, would be effected by such a measure, nobody can doubt. In Shaughai in particular, the advantage would be very Court.—The Queen held a Drawing-room great. The Government could provide

(Singapore Free Press, May 9.)
We referred briefly, several days ago, a new work published by Messrs. A. Shortrede & Co., of Hongkong, entitled "The Treaty Ports of China and Japan." But would be utterly impossible, in a condens ed notice of such a work, to give an ad quate idea of its contents. The historical events of interest since the foundation of the settlement of Hongkong, are perhaps too much condensed into a general sammary; but the most important feature in the composition of the society of the present colony, is detailed at greater length. When we come to consider that the book before us makes no pretensions to be a history, but merely a guide book, we cannot hesitate to pronounce it at once the most complete work of its kind ever issued. The Appendix may be termed the China Bradshaw, and the text teems with inceresting papers,—historical, botanical, and descriptive. The maps and plans are useful illustrations of the geographical position of the treaty ports, and a valuable assistance both to travellers and residents. From the Englishman (Calcutta) of June 8:-"The celebrated volumes of the French Apbé Huc on China, and Sir Rutherford Alcock's account of Japan are, no doubt, works of a far higher class and more extensive scope than the one now before us; but for practical utility for all purposes of locomotion, trading and residence in any of the places coming within its compass, The Treaty Ports of China excellent in their own line as could be expected; and though, perhaps, the book will appearance of "Notes and Queries," as reside in either of the countries described, this work contains not only most valuable information. but many useful hints, (N. C. Daily News, May 16.) A very interesting book has lately been published, entitled "The Treaty Ports of China and Japan," to which it forms complete guide, and regarding the history of which it gives interesting particulars. A work of the kind was much needed, to place within reach of the general pub-

Miscellaneous.

Shanghai Recorder May 7, and Supreme Court and Consular Gazette, May 11, 1867. A very useful book has just been issued from the Press in Hongkong under the on our table. The magazine is every way title of the "Guide Book and Vade-mecum to the Treaty Ports of China and Japan, compiled and edited by Mr N. B. Dennys. The Book is very conveniently got up; is hitherto unoccupied place in Eastern literinterspersed with maps of the various treaty ports, and contains, besides much useful local information, historical sketches of much interest. Our readers will feel naturally interested in what is said concerning Shanghai; and a good idea of the history of this place is conveyed in Mr | torical papers on China, together with Cennys' work. * * * The other ports notes and numerous queries for future conin China and also those in Japan are tributors to answer, and states that the carefully described, and almost all par- number of its pages will depend upon the ticulars which can be required by the number and length of its contributions. traveller or resident are to be found in The work will be received with cagerness this work, which may be justly regarded as by literary men, as throwing light upon the "Murray" for China.

From the Hankow Times, May 18. We feel it to be a public duty to take the first opportunity of calling attention to the Guide Book and Vade Mecum" just is sucd for "travellers, merchants, and residents in general," in the Treaty Ports of China and Japan, by Messrs Shortrede & Co., of Hongkong. * * * The order description of the various places follows their position on, or from the coast, as we go northward. In each instance the histo-CUM FOR TRAVELLERS, MERCHANTS, ry, position, means of access, accommodation, foreign residences, public buildings, liarly adapted for bringing to light valucommunity, mode and cost of living, climate, associations, amusements, places of interest, native institutions, population, local government, natural history, productions, ly supported as it deserves by the numeand statistics of trade are given, along with a miscellaneous detail of facts and incident, in connection with particular localities. far as we are able to practically test the individual descriptions of the various places, they are given with a considerable degree of fairness and fulness. Peking, Yedo, and Macao are wisely included in the general survey. * * * The value of the book is greatly increased by a most copious index, and the work closes with a set of useful appendices. The last of these is the greatest novelty of the work. It consists of a bibliographical index of all formal works published from the earliest date in the English language on China and Japan. Philological boo's are, for some reasons best known from $8 to $5.]

With the exception of the comparative thinness of the paper, the getting up of the work is very creditable to all concerned; and we have sincere pleasure in congratulating the authors and publishers on the considerable merit of their admirable enterprise and performance.

(Singapore Free Press, Mar. 2, 1867.) We have received the first number of a neat little pamphlet of eight pages entitled "Notes and Queries on China and Japan," containing some able and interesting histhe ancient traditions of China, with researches into the laws of the various provinces, and the custom of the people.

(Hankow Times, Mar. 1867.) We insert this week, apropos of some piquant correspondence which has appeared of the late in our columns, an extract from the new publication, "Notes and Queries on China and Japan," on the subject of infanticide, which we particularly recommend to the notice of our contributors as containing some reliable facts in connection with the vexed question. * * * Such a work as the "Notes" is pecuable information in respect to this country, and its people, language, and institutious; and we trust it will be as warmrous rising and energetic men, who are now, thanks principally to the philological labours of Mr Secretary Wade, making rapid advance in the acquirement of the languages to say nothing of the devoted missionaries who have already grown grey in their service to the cause to which they have given themselves.
